Sumter Man Carried All But Two Counties in State

HIS MAJORITY CLIMBED TO NEARLY 30,000

Bethea and Shealy Were Elected By Immense Majorities; Anderson County Completely Reverse Its Position of Two Years Ago—Wyatt Aiken Has Large Majority

While not so many gathered in front of The Intelligencer office last night to hear the glad tidings that Richard I. Manning of Sumter, had been elected governor of South Carolina and to watch the returns on the other elections, as did on the occasion of the first primary, yet the crowd last night made up in happiness for what it lacked in numbers and the voters gathered on Main street got real, genuine enjoyment out of every bulletin received—for the simple reason that everything received during the night showed that there was no longer to be any factionalism in South Carolina.

By ten o'clock it was a clearly established fact that Manning, Bethea and Shealy were elected and it was almost as fully established that the anti-administration forces had won out in the race for county offices.

Anderson's Showing.
From the very first it appeared that Richard I. Manning would carry Anderson county. He received a good vote at the cotton mills and in the country and swept the towns where he is known personally.

The county ticket was interesting in its developments. Wyatt Aiken ran away with Dominick, carrying every county in the district, including Anderson.

G. N. C. Boleman, for many years county auditor but for several years out of politics, defeated for county treasurer Dr. W. A. Tripp, an appointee of Gov. Blease.

J. Mack King, another appointee of the governor, appeared in the earlier returns to be defeated but later he came from behind and now it appears will be elected by about 75 or 100 votes.

Some good men were elected and some good men were defeated in the commissioners' race.

The legislative delegation will probably consist of J. L. Sherard, senator; Jno. T. West, S. A. Burns, Geo. M. Reed, Rufus Fant, Jr., J. H. Hutchison and Sam M. Wolfe. There are two boxes to be heard from which may put W. W. Scott in, but it is hardly probable.

If the present delegation, Scott, Gray and Nelson, have been defeated; Summers offered for the senate; Ashley and Hall did not seek another term.

WILL APPEAL TO PRESIDENT WILSON

Railroad Presidents Will Submit Plan For Increase in Rates During War

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Sept. 8.—A committee of railroad presidents will appeal directly to President Wilson tomorrow to assist them in devising means for tiding over the difficulties they may have grown out of the war in Europe. They are prepared to lay before Mr. Wilson facts and figures tending to show that the war in Europe has made it practically impossible to raise additional funds.

The president already has indicated a receptive attitude by his tacit agreement to the postponement of the railroad securities bill until next session to avoid embarrassing the railroads for increased rates, but that he considers that he has no right to interfere with the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

The conference was arranged at the request of the railroad men, and the committee which is to see the President is understood to represent practically every large railroad in the country.
